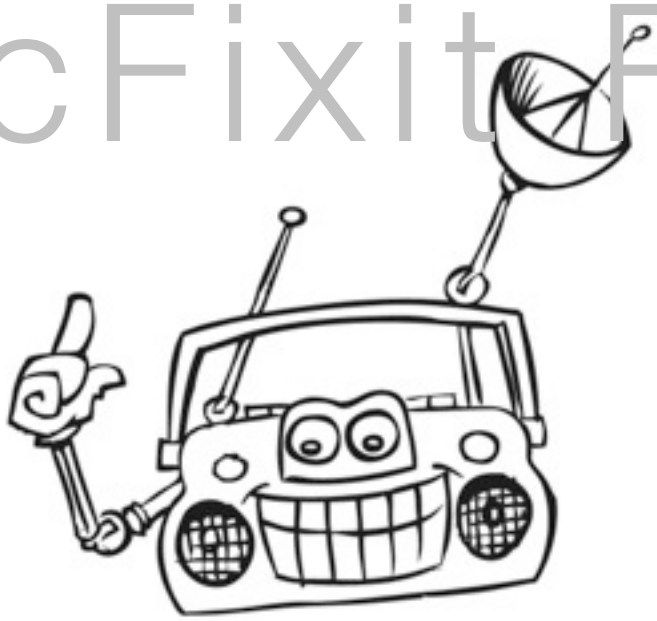
MicFixit Fun!



Can you finish this funny story?

“Link” is MicFixit’s radio- communication device. He is also his best buddy! One day Link wanted to tell MicFixit a funny story, yet when he started to speak 3 things happened… a different language came out of his mouth - then music started playing - and then… alien transmissions from another planet came through Link’s communication circuits.

Use your imagination to finish this funny story by answering these fun questions:

- ★ What different language do you think came out of Link’s mouth when he tried to speak?
- ★ What do you think Link’s face looked like when the different language came out? Try making that face now!
- ★ What music started playing when Link tried to speak again? Can you sing it?
- ★ What do you think Link felt like when the Aliens began communicating through his circuits?
- ★ What message do you think the Aliens were sending through Link? What Planet did they send the communication from?
- ★ What do you think Link sounds like when he laughs?

Here is the word hello in 3 different languages:

1. Hello = Bonjour - French
2. Hello = Ola! - Spanish
3. Hello = Ciao! (pronounced Chow) - Italian.

YOU ARE NOW AN OFFICIAL SUPER ME! TEACHER! See how many people you can teach these new ways to say ‘HELLO!” Have fun!!
